“ Andy's "light" was brighter than anyone else in the room. I will miss our cheering on ALABAMA football, arguing about opinions and where he should "share" them, playing ROOK and arguing about who was the best, and the way he never left me alone - constant banter "What's up RED?", Andy's short time with us on earth will never be forgotten. Good bye for now Andy, I love you. Tonya

Tonya, thank you for those wonderful memories. That comment about "What's up RED?" was so like him. It brought a smile!!! He certainly did have opinions, and he would ALWAYS share them with you! You and he did have similar personalities. I wish we could get together more. I did so enjoy your wedding, and getting to take the trip to be there. Andy did not complain very much. He might say, if asked how he felt, "I don't feel like a movie star," or "I don't feel too spiffy." Sometimes he would say "I feel better than I have in awhile." I know he must have been in much pain, but he was for the most part very upbeat. He did not feel sorry for himself, and would say, I'm going to beat this." He said that he had made his peace with God, and for that I am most grateful. I'm sorry that you didn't know that Andy was sick. It was such a shock in the beginning, and then it was just a progression of doctor's visits. I went with him to M.D. Anderson Cancer Clinic in Houston, Texas three times, and Jenny went with him once. I got to spend a lot of time with him the last two years. I treasure that time, and the memories of things said, even though it was usually related to his illness. God did in fact heal him---HE just took him to heaven to do so!!! I love you all, and think of you as family. Take care Tonya, Dwight, Tommy and family.
