This is a very hard loss for me and sister Wanda especially. I don't know of a time that Charles has not been a part of our lives. He was like a big brother. Childhood vacations were always our families together. Charles was an awesome pillar of his community and church. He loved the Lord and his family. I am blessed to have such wonderful memories of him. He is now pain free and dancing with the Angels. Heaven received another great man and what a reunion I know is taking place right now. My love to all the family.

Charlie, Susan and Rachael have been our very dearest friends for years. Our relationship grew stronger over the years when Rachael and my nephew, began to date years ago. Today they are married and our family has such strong bonds. Charlie's illness came to us by surprise, but we stayed strong in the Lord for the purpose God had for Charlie. He was the kindest man with a craftsman's talent to do and make just about anything. His dedication to our church and his stewardship for others will continue to live in our hearts. Susan, Rachael and their entire family will remain in our daily prayers. Charlie's friendship and laughter is rooted in our souls as we will always have precious memories of our good times together. God bless this dear sweet family.
