“ *I remember when I was going through a really hard time in my life and you came over just to spend the day with me and talk to me about everything I was going through. “ When we first met i could not believe that it was for the first time! The connection was so wonderful like i had known you all my life. We shared a commin ground in which neither one was better than the other! I have feelings of regret of not seeing my friend more... It hurts to know i will not have my bestie to talk to anymore. We both was not blessed with much but wehad love to offer others. When i needed to talj you where there, now you are in heaven with your daughter and i hope you are having an awesome time.! I miss you so and will always keep you in my thoughts.
