“ My earliest memory of my first cousin Deuel is from when I was a preschooler (Deuel was 11 years older) and my father, Travis A. Kelley traveled to his older brother (Deuel's father), Lloyd's house behind a country store that had a cooler of soda pop in it doused in ice. There were cows in a Pasture next to the store and the bedroom was the coldest I had ever slept in (under a mountain of quilts :) I have a mental image of Deuel and his brothers all smiling at us as they leaned against that cooler.

Deuel's mother's buscuits and her white creamy butter!!!(Aunt Ima was a splendid cook.

His Uncle Travis (my father) always felt especially close to Deuel and Clara's cured hams were a tradition at Kelley family Reunions.

I know Duell is with Jesus now and Angels minister to him.
