“ From my first day working at Brookdale, Mrs. Elfriede was my friend. She was the sweetest little lady I've ever met. She was the first face I saw every day, always smiling and asking how I was doing. She even taught me to speak a little German. My favorite memory of her was when she brought me back to her apartment and showed me pictures of her hometown and her husband, and told me stories of her life and how much she loved him. It always made her so happy, and you could see the love in her heart through her eyes. I am so sorry to the family and to the world for the loss of this sweetest of little ladies. She will be in my heart forever.

“ I miss you so much momma. I've only known you since the 7th but even though you were in a lot of pain due to your fall you still greeted me with kindness and love. The one memory I have in mind was when you asked me to lay down with you and I said I'm too big to lay next to you and you actually scooted over to make room for me and I laid next to you. We even took a picture together. I will cherish it forever. You asked me on the 12th would I be with you when you die and jokingly I said can we make an appt. 😂 God and I granted you that wish by being with you when you took your last breath. I love you and miss you so much. Now dance forever with your husband in heaven 🥰
