

Grayson Kole Smith

February 15, 2013 - July 31, 2021

Grayson Kole Smith, of Heflin, Alabama, passed away on July 31, 2021 after bravely battling a life-long illness. He was eight years old.

Grayson was born on February 15, 2013 with a multitude of congenital problems. He was given no chance to survive a few days, much less eight years. But in spite of his prognosis, he did live and through his Facebook page, Grayson's Story, touched countless lives around the world. He was a huge Atlanta Braves fan, loved Alabama football, and enjoyed being able to spend time in the outdoors when he could.

Grayson is survived by his parents, Kendyl and Jennifer Smith; his brothers, Alex Witt and Slate Smith; his grandparents, Joan and Marty Otwell; his uncle, Derek Smith; his first cousin, Madilynn Smith; and his great aunt and uncle, Jan and Darrell Teal.

He was preceded in death by his great-grandparents, Styles and Jerri Pollard; and grandfather, Louis Mars.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday, August 4, 2021 at 12:00 p.m. EST at Freedom Baptist Church in Ranburne, Alabama. Bro. Jerome Whaley and Bro. Alton Stamey will officiate. Marcus Witt, Marty Otwell, Derek Smith, Russ Bolan, and Alex Jackson will serve as pallbearers.

The family will receive friends at Freedom Baptist Church on Tuesday, August 3, 2021 from 4:00 till 8:00 p.m. EST.

“ i just watched that special books by special kids video about grayson and i fell in love with him. he seemed like exactly the type of person i would love to hang out with. he had a great sense of humor too. i opened the comments, only to find out he had died, and immediately started crying. i never met him, i never even knew about him until like 30 minutes ago, and yet i'm crying for him, which says a lot to the impact he had on me and tons of other people. grayson did not live a long life by any means, but he lived a great one, and left a lasting positive impact on the world around him. i just hope that wherever he is now he can finally get to play baseball all he wants.

Wonderful little boy, and wonderful parents! And you all live right here in Alabama! You were blessed to be his parents and he was so lucky to have you for parents! I just fell in love with him! I wish he were still here...but, he needed to go were all little kids can run and play baseball! I know he is having great fun in heaven!

Grayson seemed like a chill guy and the kind of person that you would want to be around all the time. He was like my best friend that I never met in real life but I just pray to God that Grayson is playing baseball until the end of eternity.

“ I just watched Grayson's story on Facebook. He was a special angel, only on earth for a short time, but long enough to touch many people especially through that video. He was blessed with special parents during his short time on earth and for that he was loved. Now he is in the arms of God, free of pain and very happy. God bless his family.

“ I have never heard of Grayson's story until this evening when I was scrolling through Facebook. You know how when you click on one of those stories and then one story leads to another and then another? Well, Grayson's story popped up and I watched in absolute love and awe at this awesome little boy with his engaging smile and cool attitude. What a beautiful soul. What awesome and courageous parents you are to love him as you have and always will. His little brother will always remember that as well. Anyway, after the story, I clicked on the link to learn more and it led me to a link that showed a page saying that "no more donations were being accepted". My heart sank and I got this huge lump in my throat. I searched his name and learned that this sweet baby passed just 11 days ago. As I was sitting here thinking about your family, I heard a familiar voice and looked up at my tv and guess what I see? My son is in the living room and is watching the Braves game. I ask who's batting and it's Travis Darnaud. He said, "Yeah, this is his first game back. He'd been hurt for awhile, but he's better now and back playing". I started crying because it sounded so much like I felt at this moment about Grayson. "He'd been hurt for awhile, but he's better now and back playing". Sending so much love and prayers to your family. XOXOXO

“ I haven't followed Graysons story to long, but since I have I fell in love with him. I watched the live when you were in the car. Grayson kept turning the volume up on his phone/tablet. Mom told him to turn it down he did. Then when she started talking he would turn it back up. She would say Grayson Cole turn that down, he would give a big smile. Also when you had to go back home for his (meds?) your older son ran in the house to get what Grayson needed. He didn't even bat an eye he knew what he had to get for Grayson. “ Have followed Grayson's story for past 6 months when I stumbled onto his facebook page while just browsing. He was such an incredible little boy with a passion for life even in days that were challenging for him. Such a little trooper and such an inspiration for everyone. He never gave up. What a gift he was to the whole world. My heart is breaking for his family but Grayson is in Heaven looking down on family , friends, acquaintances and any one and everyone whose lives ge touched. RIP Grayson in Heaven and pain free. What an inspiration he was.

“ I met Grayson through SBSK and then his parents and brothers. Such a wonderful loving family. Grayson was a lovely strong wee boy. I hope he knew how many people around the world cared for him and will be here to support his family in the days to come.

“ I met Grayson and his page through SBSK. Grayson instantly touched my heart and I have followed him ever since. When he was put on hospice, I was telling my boyfriend about Grayson and my boyfriend started tearing up. Grayson is a miracle and has touched thousands of lives, even after he passed. Keep running the bases up there Grayson!

“ Grayson, you have always lived deep within my heart buddy. My heart breaks for Mom & Dad, they were pretty awesome parents huh! You changed my outlook on life and I can never thank you enough for being so incredibly brave in everything you did. I wish I could attend your farewell party but theres a few miles between us and the trip is impossible but I will be praying for mom & dad, they will need it. Someday I will meet you, and I can't wait. We'll have to attend a Minnesota Twins vs. Braves game together. The Twins will knock there socks off but we can debate that another time! Rest easy sweet boy at the feet of Jesus. Prayers from SD!

“ I learned about Grayson through SBSK. Having grown up with weird and virtually unknown disabilities and having surgery after surgery to be able to live, I related to him strongly. I hope he's resting in peace. Go Braves.
