“ Mr Billy was a person that would always make you smile his down to earth personality and the friendly demeanor that made you feel comfortable around him. He would talk to anyone like he had known them all of their lives. I took my grandchildren up to the dairy one time and took them on a tour and that's something that very few kids these days will ever experience. He gave them some chocolate milk and it was on after that so I had to make sure I had some every weekend. It was the best I've ever tasted and the buttermilk was a must for the best biscuits, pancakes or cornbread.
