“ My dear sister and I had great fun growing up together. However she did have a mischievous side. She would trick me into doing her share of the chores by telling me she would give me things like a book that was in the family bookcase. I got numerous phone calls from her with a new recipe I must try. My favorite recipe book is filled with those recipes. She will be greatly missed but lives on through all the happy memories.

“ Jane & I worked together for about 20 years. She was also one of my best friends. I am so grateful that I was able to meet her so many years ago. Jane had a big heart she would give you the shirt of her back and yes she was a great cook. When Garfield was out of town she always made sure he had fresh apple pie and chicken and dumplings ready for him when he came home. I loved her apple pies. We had a place close to theirs in Mexico Beach so yes their house was always open for friends and yes there was always something good cooking. In 1989 my husband Don and I, Jane and Garfield we went on a trip to Germany and Austria were we had the best time ever. I have so many good memories of Jane, Garfield, Jenny, Jill and Krista. Jane is now at piece and I hope reunited with her family in heaven. Oh, and did I mention Jane had a temper? Everyone knew it and of course it's all because of her red hair. Rest in piece Jane until we meet again I love you your old friend Hannelore Henderson

“ When I think of Mrs. Jane Garfield, I think of happiness. She was always the center of all family gathers, because family and friends meant everything to her. There were always celebrations, laughs and love sharing in her house. Among many other attributes she had, I would say she was an amazing cook and loved sharing it with the rest of us. The doors of her house were always open to anyone who wanted to share with her the celebration of life. So many of us were so welcome in her life with big open arms and heart. That's how I always going to remember her happy, laughing out loud, dancing and always celebrating life.

“ My most special memory is a weekend spent in Mexico Beach where we went fishing and came back to the house where Garfield grilled and we all helped cook. Of course after dinner the furniture and rugs were moved and we all danced away! Jane sent me home with a bunch of her recipes: Carolina pulled pork and BBQ shrimp, which I make to this day! What a great time! Beth McCrary

“ Some of my most vivid childhood memories were at Mexico Beach with my Aunt Jane and Uncle Garfield. They'd fill the recliner and couches with coins me and my brother Pete would dig in. Aunt Jane was an amazing cook and nothing compared to her Angel Biscuits as we called them. I'd dig for sand fleas for hours in front of their house. Lots of memories on the deck eating ribs on hammocks or trying to learn how to slurp oysters with Uncle Garfield. Aunt Jane was a wonderful host, something I knew at a 7-year old girl. She will be dearly missed but she leaves some wonderful memories behind.

“ Jane and Garfield were wonderful hosts and entertainers who had a knack for making guests feel welcome and loved. Jane was a terrific southern cook with a lively sense of humor and keen intelligence. An unforgettable woman - we will remember her with great fondness and the love she passed on to her daughters and granddaughter.
