“ RIP Mrs. Jessie Mae. I was your caregiver for a short time but we had a lot of laughs and memories. You were a very loving person. Your husband Mr. Hoyt was a special character but most of all he loved you very much. I was so young when I cared for your you and your husband. You were definitely like a grandmother to me. When I first started working with you I could barely scramble an egg but you taught how to make the best biscuits one has ever made from scratch. You taught me how to make cornbread. Coming from the city to country was new to me but I adapted well and was able to take in the beauty of your property. I wished that I'd kept in contact with you throughout the years after I left. I know you're in a better place now watching over your family. Love, Crystal

There are no words to describe how much I loved and cared about my grandmother. To know her was a distinct honor! I will mourn her everyday of my life without her.
